

Social Media House Rules

Our main goal is to make football the largest and most popular sport for males and females throughout Northern NSW.

We know that you are passionate about promoting your love and appreciation for the game and with your help we can make our social platforms a safe, engaging and inviting community for all to do this.

Just like our favourite game, our social media sites come with some basic rules:

- No offensive, violent, hateful or discriminatory language
- No trolling posts or deliberately disruptive conversations
- No specific attacks or any comments meant to harass, threaten or abuse an individual or group
- No links or comments containing sexually explicit content material
- No spam, link baiting or files containing viruses that could damage the operation of other people's computers or mobile devices.
- No violations of copyright or intellectual property rights
- No commercial solicitations or the promotion of a competitor
- No inaccurate or misleading statements about Northern NSW Football, its products and its people

Our site referees will actively moderate and block anyone who chooses to break these rules.
